

A pencil sketch of a landscape. In the foreground, a large, leafy tree with dense foliage dominates the right side. To its left, a smaller, more sparsely-leaved tree stands. In the background, a small building with a chimney is visible. A body of water stretches across the middle ground, with a distant shoreline and hills visible on the right. The sketch is rendered in a soft, sketchy style with light pencil lines and shading.

Bibl. Jag.

1475

18

